MAPPING THE ORAL MICROBIOME: An analysis of the taxonomic distribution of bacteria present in human saliva as classified by Kraken shows that the majority of the reads fell into one of three genera: Streptococcus (30%), Haemophilus (17%), and Prevotella (13%).